CAN understand most moderately complex, formal and informal communication related to life experiences.
 CAN get information from moderately complex business texts and interpret and use information in charts, diagrams, tables, graphs, and websites.

Processing Information

CAN follow instructions and directions for technical and non-technical tasks. Understand short group interactions and discussions on familiar topics like classroom projects, instructional videos etc.

Interaction

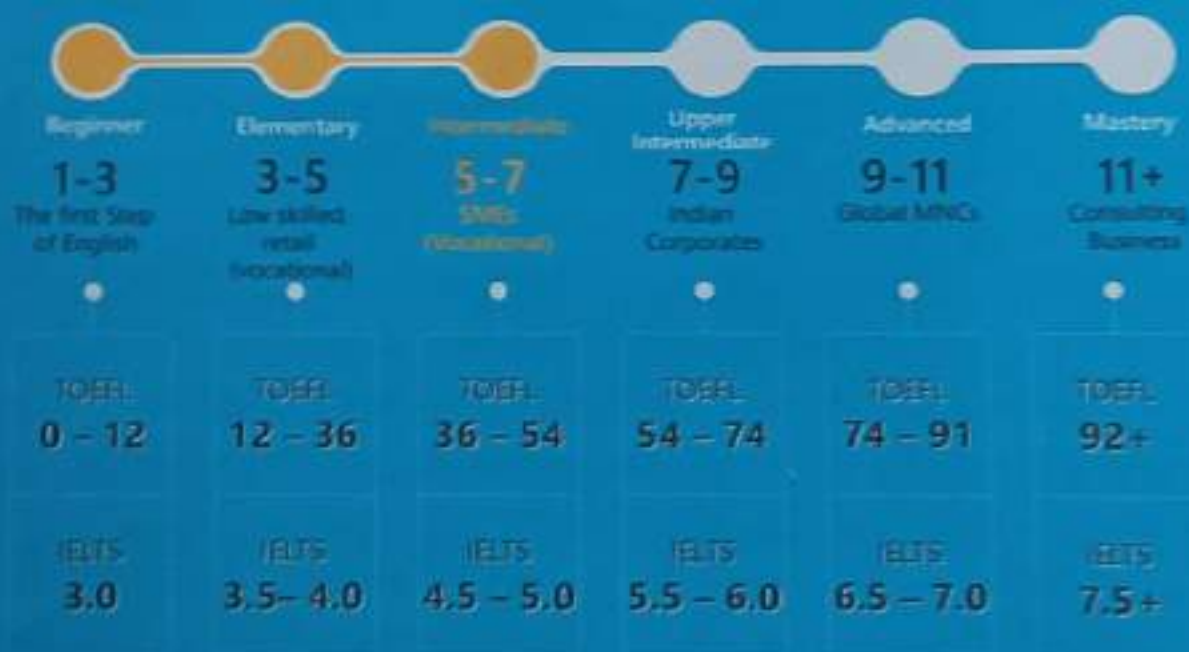

CAN communicate with some confidence in everyday social situations.
 CAN present concrete information in some detail about familiar topics.
 CAN make and respond to somewhat formal suggestions and indirect requests.
 CAN participate in routine social conversations.

Production

CAN write connected paragraphs to describe a sequence of events, give a detailed description or comparison of people, things, routines or simple procedures.
 CAN write with good control of simple grammar and adequate control of spelling and punctuation.
 CAN use some abstract or specialized vocabulary with occasional idioms.

What does your STEP score mean?

STEP has been benchmarked to global standards as well as the needs of employers. The table below estimates typical performance on international benchmarks based on your STEP score.
